Utilization of Time

Hi everybody I am Rohit, a shopkeeper but my dreams were to become an Airline Pilot. It all began one day:

I was a 13-year-old boy back then. I was really fascinated by those big flying machines that we call an Airplane. From then I decided to become a Pilot and take control of those gigantic machines, but I decided to work for my dream some other day (Common Excuse), but that other day never came until I was studying to pass out 12^{th} Grade, then after I passed twelve (On the edge of failing). I got in an Aeronautical Engineer School, but my performance there was really poor as I never worked on my dream and I failed to pass through the school and any airline didn't gave me the job for a pilot, I was completely shattered, that the dream I used to see for becoming in my childhood didn't become real just because I failed to Utilize the Time I had to in my hand to work on my dream, And that's how I become a shopkeeper because I couldn't got any other job as well. So that's my failure story and I would not let this happen to my children.

Moral: Time is the most precious thing that we all have. We all should make the best use of it to our limits.
